Creditors unanimously approve Nafz Holzhaus GmbH insolvency plan – successful restructuring supported by PLUTA team

5 November 2026

An important milestone has been reached in Nafz Holzhaus GmbH's restructuring as a debtor in possession: the creditors unanimously approved the insolvency plan at the discussion and voting meeting held at the Local Court of Rottweil. With the business having been kept operating for almost two years, this important development now paves the way for the successful completion of its debtor-in-possession proceedings.

On 30 December 2024, the Local Court of Rottweil ordered provisional debtor-in-possession management for the company. The court then opened the regular debtor-in-possession proceedings in early March 2025. The timber house manufacturer has continued operating since the application was filed. During the proceedings, the company has taken important restructuring steps and improved its operational processes and structures. Attorney Mr Steffen Beck from PLUTA Rechtsanwalts GmbH has supported the restructuring as general agent. He is being assisted in the PLUTA team by attorney Mr Jonas Scheble and business lawyer Ms Sarah Dingler.

Important step for the company's future

"The creditors' unanimous approval validates the chosen restructuring approach. The business has made significant progress over the past almost two years. Once the proceedings have been terminated, the company will be able to leave this process behind it and make a fresh start. I would especially like to thank all of the customers and business partners who have stood by the company during this time," said PLUTA restructuring expert Mr Steffen Beck.

Nafz Holzhaus GmbH managed to remain operational during the entire debtor-in-possession proceedings. Demand for its bespoke timber houses has been encouraging. As well as delivering existing construction projects, the company has also been able to win new orders. Its restructuring has been supported by employees as well as customers and business partners.

Managing director Mr Lukas Nafz said, "We have restructured our company over the past almost two years, and these efforts have paid off. I would like to thank our team and our customers, who have placed their trust in us during this time. This marks the beginning of a new chapter for Nafz Holzhaus."

As insolvency monitor, attorney Dr Dietmar Haffa from law firm Schultze & Braun has been overseeing the debtor-in-possession proceedings in the interests of the creditors, and has welcomed their approval.

Now that the insolvency plan has been approved, the remaining legal formalities must be completed. The local court has already confirmed the plan. The proceedings are therefore expected to be closed before the end of this year.

Nafz Holzhaus GmbH based in Horb am Neckar was founded by brothers Mr Sebastian Nafz and Mr Lukas Nafz in 2013. The company specialises in designing and delivering custom timber houses and offers turnkey buildings as a general contractor. Its work encompasses single-family homes, apartment buildings and more complex construction projects. Healthy building design, regional value creation and high quality standards are at the heart of what it does.
