and the business came to a virtual standstill. At the same time, it incurred a significant bad debt loss that put a further strain on liquidity. After the measures to contain the coronavirus outbreak were lifted, key staff needed to revive the business were no longer available.

Restructuring as a debtor in possession

M+W Messe- und Werbeservice GmbH intends to use the provisional debtor-in-possession proceedings to restructure itself. To this end, a restructuring concept will be drawn up by management consultancy plenovia GmbH as a next step. This will set out the measures required to keep the business operational and will be presented to the creditors for a vote. The planned countermeasures include a realignment of the company's façade construction business, which was established during the coronavirus pandemic.

Business to remain fully operational

"Our main objective in the context of the debtor-in-possession proceedings is to sustainably restructure and consolidate M+W Messe- und Werbeservice GmbH. The business will continue to operate as usual and without any restrictions during this process," said managing director Mr Julian Lothring.
