(FLL) and FWU Life Austria (FLA) and not customers of FWU AG.

The relevant parties are in close consultation with the supervisory authorities. The most important points to be clarified from a customer perspective are the current status of and risks for the funds accumulated under the FLL and FLA insurance contracts. Mr Willrodt said, "Customers' existing deposits are protected and are not directly affected by the parent company's insolvency proceedings."

Customers' existing assets guaranteed

Customer deposits to date are protected by the respective legal protection mechanisms. The assets of FLL customers are protected on the basis of supervisory regulations and are being held for safekeeping by one of the world's largest custodian banks. In Luxembourg, a specific system known as the 'triangle of security' protects the rights of customers when an insurance firm gets into financial difficulty.

intention of protecting the interests of customers. It is important to emphasise that FLL is not in liquidation.

The CAA's opinion on the insolvency relates to the solvency capital requirement and not the company status of FLL itself. The company is preparing a financial plan aimed at restoring the required solvency. A supervisory commissioner (commissaire de surveillance) was appointed on 2 August 2024 to monitor the administration of FLL's assets and liabilities.

FLA has decided to suspend new business until the end of September 2024. This decision has been taken so that FLA can assess the new situation and develop a clear strategy.
