successful investor solution achieved by Mr Torsten Gutmann for D & O Werbe- und Vertriebservice GmbH last year. The well-known Funke Mediengruppe and another investor took over both of the company's business operations. All jobs were saved as a result. The second award went to PLUTA for successful purchase agreement negotiations for the Dormacenter shopping centre in Dormagen. Attorney Mr Michael Bremen was involved in these proceedings as insolvency monitor and supported the discussions with investors. Kaufland, which has the most stores of any full-range retailer in Germany, ultimately acquired the shopping centre.

The Leaders League media and rating agency has also published its latest rankings for 2021. PLUTA has made the list in the three areas of insolvency, restructuring and M&A. What's more, the company has again been included in the Restructuring & Insolvency category of this year's Who's Who Legal.

PLUTA also received an award from Statista last year. The German online statistics portal cooperated for a second time with the brandeins business magazine to determine the country's best tax consultants and public auditors – and PLUTA was included among them.

Mr Michael Pluta, managing director and founder of PLUTA Rechtsanwalts GmbH, said: "We are delighted to have received so many international awards. These highlight to us how significant our work is abroad as well. We will continue to build on this success in the years ahead."
